Circular Economy in the act, with successes, responsibility and consistency

2024 was a year of extroversion for ENDIALE. The celebration of 20 years of operation as well as the "CYCLE OF LIFE" initiative that we have launched in recent months to raise public awareness, gave us the opportunity to bring the Circular Economy to the forefront of public debate and interest.

The Circular Economy is the new productive and consumption model, whereby through processing and reuse, materials acquire a new life cycle, with new value in the market. It is a great opportunity for sustainable development and reconstruction of the development model of our country, with significant benefits for the environment, public health, society, businesses and the saving of resources and energy.

If before 20 years Circular Economy looked like with an ambitious selection, today within the big ones challenges her conjuncture, it is imperative necessity. The fact that ENDIALE since 2004 managed to be recognized as optimal practice Circular Economy, justifies the strategy where we followed. If and we started from very low, with the Greece to it is the "black" sheep" in the management of waste lubricants, we succeeded with a vision, a plan and daily work to be today, the best performing system in all the Europe, raising the country us in pedestal of "European" "first-time offender". The fact this happens most catholic recognition from the State, the market and society.

With the total of actions, we highlighted that when we unite forces, experiences and goals, then nothing is impossible. The 220 companies that market lubricants, the 43 licensed collectors, the ENDIALE's 8 Centers Collection and certainly the 7 specialized companies rebirth lubricants are the foundation of successes us. But nothing truly important can become reality, if not hugged by the same society. In this direction we took big and serious steps during 2024 to communicate our messages and maximize the contribution of the 43,000 waste lubricants collection points, gas stations and workshops, where they carry the special ENDIALE's partner sign.

With this strength, we are determined to continue to implement the Circular Economy in practice, with success, responsibility and consistency. Warm wishes for health and happiness as well as a productive and green 2025, with more Circular Economy in the everyday life of our country!

Happy New Year to All!

At the top of recycling of lubricants

ENDIALE celebrated 20 years of success and contribution

With a glittering evening at the Athens Concert Hall, it celebrated its 20th anniversary with the National Collective Alternative Waste Lubricating Oil Management System.

As an Alternative Management System, ENDIALE's feast had alternative features, escaping the conventions of successive speeches where they are used to in these cases.

After all, the focus of the celebration was the emergence of something truly new. Circular Economy in action! One new economic model production and consumption can make the difference for our planet, us and our daily life.

So, our original event was separated into two places.

In first part 20 different faces, as much as and the years of celebration, they composed mosaic – mosaic a complete audiovisual narrative for the ENDIALE, for its successes, for its operation, for the great benefits of its work and the hope it generates. Characteristic of the positions was the catholic recognition of ENDIALE as optimal practice Circular Economy. And it is equally important that this is achieved without public resources but only with the participation of the private sector, as emphasized.

Also highlighted how ENDIALE is not only the most effective but also the cheaper system management waste lubricants in Europe and this beyond everyone of others it is to avail and of final consumer.

ENDIALE's work emerged as a great collective success based on cooperation everyone of parts of systemic to applies or Circular Economy in practice.

And these successes have direct benefits for the life of everyone of us, such as institutionally underlined representatives her State and her market but and renowned scientists in the fields of the environment, economics and public health.

Since 2004 until today, ENDIALE S.A. has an impressive contribution to the environment, to the public health and in the savings of natural resources and energy.

With the performance of ENDIALE S.A. surpasses consistently over the last few years the national targets and raises Greece in the base- It is the European champion in the regeneration of lubricating oils. This is why it has been recognized by leading European organizations, such as the European Environmental Bureau (EEB), as the best practice in implementing Circular Economy.

In the second part of the event, attendees had the opportunity to watch on stage the group IXODRASI of Nikos Touliatos, a musical performance unique in its kind in Greece.

Nikos Touliatos for the music lover public it is the larger Greek "percussion". The staff of style formed from the experience were acquired playing for many years different species music with musicians' traditional music, synthetics modern music and song and with Greeks and foreigners' musicians in space her jazz, her modern and self-designed music. Has cooperated with a multitude of composers, singers, actors, directors, painters, poets, musicians, dancers, choreographers that we would like to spend hours mentioning.

Nikos Touliatos was the creator and leader of the 400 drummers of the opening ceremony and the creator of the percussion group and composer of the piece that was heard during the entrance.

of athletes and flags at the closing ceremony of the Olympic Games Athens 2004. Together with the group IXODRASI it is over the last 30 years, the pre-eminent exponents of the current of percussion groups and the use of all kinds of objects like crust instruments in Greece, without of course being limited to this only.

And exactly here there was an exceptional symbolism. Suitable management can give "new value" in things. Either it is going to for artistic creation as in case of barrels where are used as crust, either it is going to for recycling and Renaissance, such as in the case of used lubricants. Such as noted and our journalist Mrs. Mary Nikoltsiou where presented the event: "Everything there is a value where it is waiting to discovered when we look beyond the obvious and try to broaden the horizon of our perspective."

The glamorous evening concluded with cocktails that gave attendees the opportunity to get to know each other, networking and express wishes to ENDIALE to continue its work with successes that make our world a better place.

The President and CEO of ENDIALE S.A. Mr. George Deligiorgis made the following statement:

"We are truly proud of this 20-year journey that brings us to the top and Greece from the bottom at the beginning of the 21st century, recognized today as Champion Europe in collection and the Renaissance of waste lubricants oils.

This one or big national success relies on in consistent collective effort every one of the parties of Systemic, starting from the 43,000 collaborating points for oils change in all of Greece and their collectors until their regenerators where they give news value in used lubricants where they return in the market. We prove in the action how with persistence, participation, hard work and above all with vision, Greece can work miracles.

Holding our compass stable, we continue the route that ENDIALE is offering great service in environment, in society and in the economy. Our priority strategy is the sensitization and active participation of citizens to join us, that all together to achieve even more for a brighter, more optimistic and more sustainable tomorrow.

BIG OR RESPONSE IN INITIATIVE "CYCLE OF LIFE":

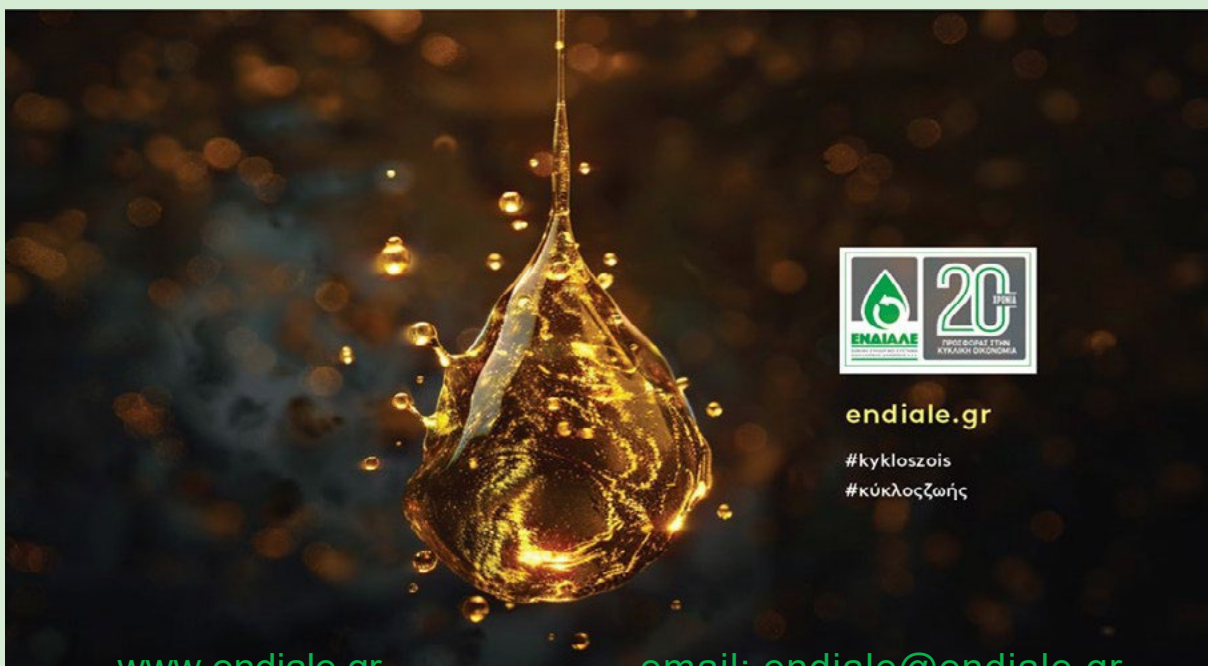

With proper management, used lubricants can gain new value.

Big response from the wide public succeeded the initiative "CYCLE OF LIFE" of ENDIAAE which unfolded for eight weeks with the aim of raising awareness among drivers and the wider public regarding the proper management of vehicle lubricants.

The main message of the initiative was that when we see a black drop of waste lubricant, most of us think that its life has ended, but with proper management, used lubricants can acquire new value.

The message visualized in a video of high aesthetics value, which following a decision by the ESR, was broadcast by the country's television stations as a social message.

The initiative included series of actions where the drivers were encouraged to find the nearest in them, from the 43,000 collaborating points change lubricants (gas stations, workshops, etc.) where there are in all the Greece and to recycle the lubricants there, contributing so to big success her country us to it is first, in EU to the sector this.

The start of the initiative "CYCLE OF LIFE" was held in early September by the 88th Thessaloniki's International Fair, where the kiosk of ENDIALE won the interest of many visitors. Equally big was the number of visitors in the kiosk where the initiative at The Athens Mall was set up from October 31st to November 6th. Visitors were informed in detail about the importance of recycling their vehicle's lubricants and received printed information material. At the same time, they had the opportunity to play and an interesting game of knowledge around from recycling of lubricants, gaining aesthetic value gifts!

Especially successful was the presentation given by "CYCLE OF LIFE" at the KTEO of AUTOVISION, confirming how participation and our cooperation is necessary for the success of the initiative, so that the message of recycling lubricants reaches as many drivers as possible.

Of particular interest were the campaigns organized on the internet and social media, which had a particularly strong impact. between users.

It was demonstrated in an understandable way that by recycling waste vehicle lubricants us, we protect the environment, contribute to public health, and we save natural resources and energy. Also, were used from the 20-year-old offering ENDIALE as with the work where has results have been achieved:

- Avoidance contamination aquatic surface equal with the Evia or 3,670km².
- Restriction her production emissions CO₂ where will they need 9.5 million trees to absorb them.
- Reduction against 74% of emissions floating particles in the atmosphere, connected with respiratory diseases.
- Reduction against 96.8% of emissions ascertained carcinogens compounds.
- Energy saving for lubricant production equal to consumption of a city with 25,000 inhabitants for one year.

It worths to be noted how many users download useful material from the initiative's website endiale.gr/kyklos-zois and shared it on their personal social media accounts, supporting the campaign and encouraging friends and followers to participate.

The “LIFE OF CYCLE” initiative was an important step towards sustainable development. An opportunity to raise public awareness with a simple but important can contribute to conditions for a better future.

ENDIALE continues to encourage every driver, every vehicle owner, to become part of this Circle and contribute in their own way to the great national success of our country to be the first, among all European countries, in the regeneration of waste lubricants through ENDIALE's Collective Management System.
